OAA Close to New Exhibition Space

Over the past two months, Exhibits Coordinator Joanie Murphy has been meeting with the Marketing Department of Jack London Square in Oakland in regards to showing OAA's artwork in storefront windows in buildings for lease. The venue offers excellent exposure to local shoppers, restaurant patrons and tourists. Joanie has met with both the Marketing and Art Directors of the Jack London Square management company, and they have come to an agreement to show work for six month periods beginning as soon as preparations can be made, though an exact date has not been set. Exhibiting artists will be asked to sign a waiver in regards to responsibility for theft insurance, and the management company will be doing the preparation of the windows picked to show the artwork. The people at Jack London Square are quite excited and enthusiastic about this venture and have been very cooperative. The opportunity to show our work at such a highly visible local venue will possibly become a chance to attract new members and acquire other venues.

MTC Show opens in January

One of our best venues, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) Show, only comes around every 18 to 24 months, and it is about to go up. The show will formally open on January 10th, and will run through the end of March. Show co-chairs Nancy Sears (510) 985-0717 and Elizabeth Kavalier (510) 526-5905 have worked hard to get the details right. The Metropolitan Transportation Commission will host a reception on Thursday, January 18th between 4:00 pm and 6:00 pm. The Juror for the show will be Electra Long a prominent Bay Area painter specializing in plein air landscapes, portraits and still life's in oil. Currently Ms Long teaches Portrait and Landscape Painting at San Francisco City College, you can find out much more about Electra by visiting her website at www.electralong.com. With your participation, this will be a great show! Please review the rules on page 5 and clip the entry form on page 7 of the newsletter.

Notes and other news

- During January, Tina Nelson will be showing her work at the Pacific Coffee Company located at the corner of South Main and Newell in Walnut Creek.

- The coordinator for our ongoing Oakland Chamber shows John Mallon, makes an excellent point. The mission of the Chamber is to promote Oakland over other regional cities (San Francisco for example). Submission of work depicting recognizable icons of those other cities is understandably not appropriate for Chamber shows.

- Speaking of John Mallon, he along with Pat Dahlberg are currently showing paintings in the Lesa Johnson Gallery at 1041 Stuart Street, Lafayette.

- The editor would again like to thank Ginger Papania, Gladys Eaton, John Mallon and Stan Cohen who have all submitted short articles for the OAA newsletter which have yet to be published. With our busy show schedule this fall, our 8 pages fill up too quickly. Please keep the articles on your experiences coming, they are always well received and appreciated by our readers.
